Summary

Hello there, thank you for taking the time to review my resume. Most of my work experience thus far has been in print but recently I have shifted my focus towards pursuing a web development career and I am currently enrolled in a front end web development career course through Scrimba. I have a firm grasp on HTML and CSS concepts as well as working knowledge of java script as I am still learning. I have a strong desire to always learn more and enjoy adapting to new situations and problems, I hope you can consider me for your position.
